

About Your Hunting Safari

This premium outfitter has excellent hunting concessions of more than 500.000 acres in the Bushland area, stretching from the Waterberg Mountains in the south to the Limpopo River in the north.

The vast majority of South African game species are found in the Bushland, and over the years this outfitter has built a strong relationship with neighboring landowners, fully utilizing the hunting possibilities in the surrounding area.

The area is enormous and has a very varied biodiversity - we usually have to drive to the surrounding hunting areas. The daily driving distance entirely depends on the species you wish to hunt, but most of the hunting is within a 30-60 min. drive.

The hunt is usually done as a mix of driving in open safari jeeps to find the game, and stalking – depending very much on your endurance and preferences. These arrangements are done in close coordination with your PH (Professional Hunter) who always accompanies you during the hunt, and is there solely to assist and help in any way possible. Furthermore you will be accompanied by highly qualified Trackers that can find even the smallest of tracks left behind.

A typical day starts early, at around 5.30 a.m., with a big continental breakfast prepared by the Elephant Lodge's personal chef, living up to all western standards. Followed by a quick drive to your designated hunting area where you, together with your PH and Tracker will start your hunt.

As the heat starts to rise, and the animals stop being active and go into hiding, it's time for a mid-day break. You either drive back to The Elephant Lodge, or you rest under a tree while lunch is prepared. There are plenty of soft drinks, water and beer for after the hunt. After an energizing meal and well deserved break you start up again, and continue until sunset – or when you wish to return to the Elephant Lodge.

All of this is arranged in close and ongoing coordination with your PH. So if at any point you want to stop for the day, or otherwise have any preferences, this is your prerogative.

The staff is obliged to serve your every need, and if you want to hunt all day, or if you are lucky and shoot your prey before noon and want to relax by the pool, this is totally up to you. We are solely here to give you the best conditions to have an amazing hunting experience. And you simply won't find better hunting conditions in South Africa than with us!
